

Woolcock Institute of Medical Research Spokespeople

The Woolcock Institute of Medical Research is Australia's leading sleep and respiratory research organisation. Below is a list of medical spokespeople and their areas of expertise. If you wish to interview anyone from the Woolcock Institute please contact Lucy Williams on 0403 753 028.

SLEEP

Prof. Ron Grunstein, Head of Sleep and Circadian Group and sleep physician

Dr Naomi Rogers, Circadian Biologist and Sleep Deprivation Specialist (Shift work and fatigue)

Dr Delwyn Bartlett, Sleep Psychologist, specialising in insomnia and jet lag

Dr Brendon Yee, Sleep Physician special interest in Obstructive Sleep Apnea, Obesity and Restless Leg Syndrome

Dr Anup Desai, Sleep Physician, specialising in the effect of sleep disorders on driver sleepiness and other issues to do with driving and daytime function

Dr Peter Buchanan, Sleep Physician, specialising in parasomnias and ethnic aspects of sleep apnea

AIRWAYS

Dr Christine Jenkins, Head of the Airways Group and Respiratory Physician, specialising in asthma, COPD and patient self management and education

A/Prof Guy Marks, Research Leader of the Epidemiology Group and Director of ACAM, Respiratory Physician, specialising in asthma and environmental effects on respiratory health

Dr Greg King, Research Leader of the Imaging Group Respiratory Physician, specialising in asthma, COPD and lung function measurement

Prof Norbert Berend, Research Director, Respiratory Physician,

Dr Helen Reddel, Research Leader of the Clinical Management Group, Respiratory Physician, specialising in asthma, computerised monitoring of respiratory diseases, and inhaler technique.

Professor Paul Seale, Deputy Director of the Woolcock and Research Leader of the Clinical Trials, Respiratory Physician and Clinical Pharmacologist

ALLERGIES

Dr Euan Tovey, Research Leader of the Allergy Group

Rhinitis

Dr Janet Rimmer, Research Leader of the Rhinitis Group

CELL BIOLOGY

Professor Judy Black, Research Leader of the Cell Biology Group, specialising in asthma, mesothelioma, pulmonary fibrosis and lung transplant rejection.

CYSTIC FIBROSIS

Dr Peter Bye, Research Leader of the Cystic Fibrosis Group, Respiratory Physician specialising in cystic fibrosis and bronchiectasis